WOW! I'm reminded never to put my hand in the air ever again, even to scratch the top of my head. One never knows if they might buy something at an auction, or be appointed (volunteered) for a project or position as an officer. None the less, that's what happened, and here I am. I'm it (president) for the year, so we need to help each other get through it.

Some in the neighborhood know me simply because we have lived here since 1969, and after a while you can't help but get to know a few of your neighbors. Those that don't know me have a standing invite to get to know me.

I've been reminded that the NSCNA is a 'social' group, and 'we' want to keep it that way. While doing that, we also have to continue to work as an association to make our neighborhood one in which we all agree is worth working for. We will have issues - with one another, with the neighborhood in general, with the city and all it brings before us, and other things as they come up.

Thus far, we have started the year in a big hurry, a hurry to catch up and get on with business at hand. If you hadn't noticed, the notification (signs and newsletter) of the February 19th meeting didn't make it in time. That won't happen again.

I have noted some personal goals for the organization, and hope to gain support from the board and all members in these endeavors. The board along with all members will add to the list, I'm sure, and you are invited to do so.

The NSCNA has bragging rights in that we have the largest percentage of members in the city, and we have also had the largest 4th of July parade for the past two years. We have many other things going for us as well, and you will be hearing about these other things by attending the meetings (whether you are an 'active' member or not). You are automatically a member of the association by the fact you live in the neighborhood. So come support it. Should you decide that you want to be an active participant and have voting rights, we welcome you. To become an 'active' member, it only requires dues of $15/year/household.

I am looking forward to another banner year, and with your help we will have one, and have a great time doing it.

Pillow is looking for a few good volunteers

Mentors

Children today are faced with many challenges and choices. If you could spare 30 minutes to 1 hour each week, you can join Project Mentor and help provide opportunities for children to have the chance to talk to someone about the challenges they face. Mentors visit students at the school each week. They often eat lunch together. After lunch, they spend time playing games, reading a book, or simply talking to each other.

If you are interested in becoming a mentor, contact Annette Hendrix, school counselor, at 414-4315. There is currently a waiting list of children in need of a mentor. The mentors need to satisfy a few requirements before beginning: Agree to a background check conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety, attend a 30 minute training session with Annette, take the AISD profile and pledge, and receive and read through the mentor handbook.

Tutors and Assistants

Pillow is also looking for volunteers to act as tutors or to help out in the office of library. If you can help in one of these ways or would like more information, contact Annette Hendrix at 414-4315

Something's Afoot that you must not miss!

Something's Afoot is an original theatric dance production in which every student, 3rd through 5th grade, commits to a tough regimen of 30 weekly classes, culminating in a Broadway-style performance. Beyond the performance itself, the program is instrumental in building confidence and self-esteem in the students. The performance is March 20th at Westlake High's Auditorium. Tickets are now on sale at the Pillow School Office for $5. Please come support this program and the kids!

HOME ECONOMICS: THE SMARTMONEY REAL ESTATE INDEX

Austin? Austin, Texas? That tech-busted city, where Dell, AMD, Motorola and others have laid off tens of thousand of workers, gets the highest ranking in our survey of real estate markets? Who are we kidding?

We're not kidding, we just did the math. Our research shows that plenty of other, mostly smaller companies in that city are poised to hire the folks let go by those big names. Home prices never got as overheated in Austin as they did elsewhere, so they won't freeze up as badly. Plus: Our assessment of the nation's 65 biggest real estate markets extends to the end of 2003. Since Austin took its lumps early in this recession, it may well recover sooner. In fact, Austin's score of 76.6 in our Smart-Money Real Estate Index is head and shoulders above the nearest competitor, Nashville (71.2).

These scores were derived from detailed regional data that affects housing prices, including stats from Economy.com, the Meyers Group and Woods & Poole. We gave each market 0 to 10 points for predicted job growth, recession resistance (how many quarters out of the next 10 will bring good employment news), the recent trend in housing affordability there and the amount of building permits that will be issued (a projection by Economy.com). A city's vacancy rate was worth 0 to 5 points, as were demographic changes in each market: Are typical 35- to 49-year-old homebuyers coming or going? Lastly, we fine-tuned for layoffs that occurred after our employment stats were generated.

An ideal city - all factors as favorable as possible - would get a score of 100. Markets with scores of 60 and above are primed for price appreciation; those below 50 may see values erode. Between 50 and 60, stability reigns.

These rankings predict the comparative strength or weakness of U.S. housing markets at the end of 2003.

Rank	Metropolitan Area	Median Home Price September 2001	Employment	Recession Resistance	Affordability	Building Permits	Vacancies	Population Growth/Decline	SCORE

PLACING THE AMERICAN FLAG IN YOUR YARD FOR OVER 10 YEARS.

A View From the Garden Window

K.C. Dignan

Gardening, or even “yardening” is a year-round activity, it’s just that some times are more obviously active than others. In the deep winter, or what passes for it in central Austin, I like to garden in a chair with a cozy cup of tea or cocoa, and a good book about gardening.

In February (and early March), things can get a little more active. It is a time of transitions. We can still get a hard freeze so things must be protected. However, this is the month when I start to poke my nose outdoors, and check on things. Below is a list of activities that you can do in your garden, or “yarden” (More about “yardening” next issue.)

February is the month when “prune” is more than a fruit:

- Prune Salvia Greggii at the end of the month
- Prune any woody perennials that have gotten too big or unwieldy (rosemary, lantana, salvias, etc.)
- Prune (only slightly) Crape Myrtles, if necessary. Then only cut back those branches which are smaller than a pencil. Don’t be guilty of “Crape Murder”.
- Prune ornamental grasses like Muhly, Miscanthus, Bluestems, Fountain grasses to just a few inches above the ground.
- Prune hybrid tea and floribunda roses, but not climbing roses. Prune them back about 1/3 to 1/2.
- DO NOT prune spring flowering shrubs, trees, or vines until they have bloomed or you will cut off their bloom.

Lawns

- Around March 15 is the time to fertilize your lawn. Fertilizing in early spring will provide your lawn the nutrients it needs to withstand the long hot Texas summers. In addition, a healthy lawn will require less water. Top dress lawns with 1/4 to 1/2 inch of organic fertilizer. You might want to use a fertilizer with a high proportion of nitrogen. For later applications, a good balanced fertilizer is a safe bet.
- If you haven’t aerated your lawn lately, now is a good time to do so. Preferably before you spread it with compost or other organic fertilizer. This process gets air down into your soil and increases the microbial activity, making all other treatments more effective. You can rent a power aerator from your neighborhood rental place and complete the process in an hour or so. Why not talk with your neighbors and split the cost?

A black and white advertisement for Blimpie. The word "Blimpie" is written in a large, stylized, outlined font at the top. Below it, the slogan "It's a beautiful thing." is written in a cursive script. In the center, the word "FREE" is written in large, bold, block letters. To the right of "FREE" is a small image of a Blimpie sandwich. At the bottom right, there is a small box that says "Expires 4-10-02".

- If you have problems with brown patch, apply a preventative such as Actinovate.

Flowering plants

- Check your plants for aphids or other pests. If you find small white or black specks, you have an uninvited guest in your garden. You can treat them with ladybugs or green lacewings, if you put them out last year. Otherwise it is time to get out the Safer Soap. I like to use a mixture with organic pyrethins. Remember, if your bottle doesn't specifically say "organic", the pyrethim comes from a conventional (non-organic) source and will contribute to contamination in the ground water. (Home garden and lawn care is amongst the largest sources to contamination in the ground water.)

• Start your favorite feeding or fertilizing procedures. I like to use a mixture that includes alfalfa pellets. You can get these at the feed store. They will break down with the rain and continue to feed your plants.

New seeds

Now is the time to start new seed, but only if you plan to use seed trays and protect them from cold.

Mulch

Now is a little early to mulch your garden. The soil needs to warm up a bit. Best to wait until the middle of March or early April.

Take time out to visit your yard. It can provide a lot of pleasure. My thanks to other local gardeners, such as Sheryl McLaughlin, and John Dromgole and my fellow daylily enthusiasts for these hints.

Save Water, Both Indoors and Outdoors

Toilets are the biggest water guzzling devices in your home. And as most know, landscape watering is the No. 1 outdoor use of water. The City of Austin's Water Conservation Program offers money-saving programs for both.

Indoor water savings

If your home was built before 1992, the Efficient Toilet Program can save you money monthly. It's simply a matter of replacing old inefficient toilets. If you qualify for the program, up to three toilets may be provided per household. You also can receive a $30 rebate per toilet if installed by a licensed plumber. It's an investment that keeps paying and paying.

Outdoor water savings

Planting trees and shrubs compatible with the WaterWise Landscape Rebate Program can save you money on your summer watering bills. You may be eligible for up to $500 in rebates from the City of Austin. Shade from new trees and shrubs can make your house more efficient to cool. This program is available for both existing and new homes.

For more information, call (512) 974-2199 or visit the Austin City Connection, www.cityofaustin.org/watercon, for details.

Minutes from Recent NSCNA Meetings

Feb. 12th Board Meeting Minutes

The Board met on February 12. Roger had an active agenda which was completed in short order. In summary the following motions were made and passed:

1. A motion was made and passed to use bulk mailing to distribute the February newsletter. Alyssa was certain that she would be able to get enough advertising to pay for the additional costs.
2. A motion was made and passed to use Association funds ($30) to offset the cost of a luncheon meeting with the owners of the properties near the Daleview entrance. The purpose of the meet is to encourage them to pay for a portion of the cost of the maintenance of that property.

Multiple topics were discussed, including board meeting dates, issues related to traffic and the application by the Lowes Corporation to move into the neighborhood, the membership drive, garage sale, and social committee activities. More a more complete review of the Board activities contact KC Dignan.

Feb. 19th General Meeting Minutes

The general meeting was held at Pillow Elementary on February 19. Roger Wines presided over the meeting. Alyssa Hedge stated that the newsletter will be mailed the end of February, using a bulk mailing service. Due to costs, it will be delivered in the future. Volunteers are urged to get in touch with Alyssa.

Monica Little, from the Parent Group announced that there will be babysitting at the future general meetings. The meetings will be held on Thursdays so that we may use the Pillow Elementary Library for babysitting.

Roger stated that he had met with Ms. Linda Webb, principal of Pillow. They discussed a variety of ways in which the Association may assist the school. More information will be forthcoming in the future. Roger and Monica stated that tickets to Something's Afoot are on sale now. Tickets have been sold out in the past, so people are encouraged to get their's soon.

Catherine Cotman, of the Social Committee stated that a group of people met to begin planning events. A date for the Spring Fling has been selected: May 5 (Rain date: May 11). She outlined some of the upcoming activities and encouraged people to contact her to volunteer with this annual event.

Stephani Kyler and Roger have set April as the preliminary month for the membership drive. They will be meeting to determine the specifics. Their plan is to increase membership by 10%.

Roger shared more information on the application by Lowes to the city for approval to move into the neighborhood. The amount of increased traffic and large trucks is of concern to many in the neighborhood. Roger has spoken to a City official about this issue. Roger, Jo McFerrin and 2 others are needed to write a letter explaining our concerns. Please contact Roger if you can participate in developing the letter.

The meeting was adjourned. An informative program about the Star of Texas Rodeo was presented by Callie Calahan.

Feeling a Little Bulky?

You have two upcoming opportunities to lighten your load!

City Bulky Collection

Our neighborhood's bulky collection will be March 4, 2002. Your bulky items need to be at the curb by 7:30am. Place your items at least 5 feet from our garbage cart and separate them into these three piles for collection:

1. Metal: appliances (remove doors); mowers (gas/oil removed); water heaters; rolled fencing
2. Other: furniture, carpeting, nail free lumber, railroad ties, tree trunks 8" in diameter or larger
3. Tires: up to 8 passenger tires (with the rims removed)

DO NOT set out brush or limbs, sheet glass, construction or remodeling debris, plastic garbage bags, cardboard, household garbage or hazardous household chemicals such as paints, solvents or pool chemicals.

Depending on volume, it may take a week to collect all the bulky items in the area. For more information, call 494-9400.

NSCNA Garage Sale

Sometime in the April/May timeframe, the NSCNA will be announcing a neighborhood garage sale. The NSCNA will place an ad in the Austin American-Statesman advertising the garage sale. The idea is that by holding several individual garage sales on the same weekend, we will attract more shoppers! Woo-hoo!

Keep your eyes open for the April edition of the newsletter which will announce the date.
