A complaint was voiced regarding the 'wash board' street at Steck and Briarwood, and also located in front of the roller rink. The city as received the Association's concern, but no action has occured.

NEW BUSINESS:

Tomas Rodriques: Phillips Petroleum has funds available that could be acquired by the Association and Pillow to purchase trees for the neighborhood.

A recent Bond Issue has provided funds that has been earmarked for the Pillow Playground. First $16K and then a second $60K.

Jerry Oakes will bring it to their attention that Pillow needs sidewalks in the front.

The City of Austin has 'flip flopped' on who is responsible to mow the ditches and small creeks: now it is the home owner.

The meeting ended with a discussion of neighborhood issues with two Austin Police officers (Farns and Thompson) from the Northwest Sub Station.
